How To Use LoJack's Auto Theft Blog Library

How To:

SUBSCRIBE

Go to library.autotheftblog.com

Click the link where it says "DEALERS – Subscribe Here" Enter your email address in the feed of your choice to have the latest stories emailed right to you.

CREATE A TAG

To create a targeted subscription, or a "tag" based notification of updates, simply follow these instructions:

The link to any tag on the blog follows this format: library.autotheftblog.com/tag/xxxxx. "xxxxx" represents your chosen tag.

For example, if you are only interested in "California" recovery stories, you would use the following format to view LoJack's California recovery stories:

library.autotheftblog.com/tag/california.

In order to subscribe to the California tag (or the tag of your choosing) simply add the word "feed" at the end of the link:

library.autotheftblog.com/tag/california/feed

By visiting that link in your browser, it will pop-up a subscription box that will allow you to subscribe to your chosen or preferred tag! You will stay updated whenever there is story in your area, region, dealership or whenever there is a new story within a trend.

This tool can be a very powerful sales tool at any point of sale!
